Chinatown "Warfare" Among School Children Brings on Fatal Shooting

Corpse Is Carried Between Buildings and Placed in Sitting Position

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 1.—Wong Shee, 25 years old, a Chinese merchant of 901 Clay street, was arrested at 2 o'clock today, suspected of the murder of James Kane. He was identified by Joe Angler as the Chinese who carried a revolver and who was the tallest of the Chinese who engaged in a fight with white boys last night. He developed also that Carl Monhampt, one of the white boys, had been shot under the arm in running from the scene of the battle.

According to Angler, the boys met on Clay street and began throwing rocks whereupon one of the Chinese began firing. The white boy started to run. Monhampt was shot in the flight and Kane fell dead. He must have been carried from Clay street to the place where his body was found. Wong Shee's store was the place where the Chinese lads were in the habit of assembling. Monhampt's wound is not serious.

Grief Causes Woman To Be Blind and Dumb

Shock Following the Death of Mother Breaks Blood Vessel in Brain.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Feb. 1.—Grief at the receipt of the news of the death of her mother in Pittsburgh, Pa., caused Mrs. Loretta Blakely of this city to become both blind and dumb. She is in a local hospital, where physicians declare she may eventually recover sight and speech. Physicians attending Mrs. Blakely declared that the shock of her mother's death caused the bursting of a small blood vessel and the formation of a clot in the brain which affected the optic nerves and the muscles of the throat.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 1.—A deadly feud which has existed between the Chinese and the white boys in the neighborhood fringing the Oriental quarter is believed to have been responsible for the murder of 14-year-old James Kane, an orphan boy employed at Root Bros., whose body was found shortly before 8 o'clock this morning lying on an embankment outside the "principal's office" at the Oriental school, Clay and Powell.

LEADING LIVERMORE CITIZENS APPRECIATE TRIBUNE ANNUAL

LIVERMORE, Jan. 25, 1912.—We, the undersigned citizens of Livermore and the surrounding country, desire to express our appreciation of the annual edition of THE OAKLAND TRIBUNE just issued. This issue is one of the best of its kind and will, undoubtedly, be of great and lasting benefit to all portions of Alameda county. The great growth of our county has been carefully presented, both by word and picture. What has been done by our county in the past, what is being done now and our hopes for the future are ably set forth.

We are particularly appreciative of the space that was given the Livermore valley. This section is an important portion of Alameda county, and many of the products of which the county boasts come from this valley, so that we, as citizens thereof, are particularly pleased to see ourselves ably and correctly represented in such a paper as the annual edition of THE OAKLAND TRIBUNE.

SUCCESSOR TO DOCTOR CLARK

Supervisors Appoint Dr. C. A. Wills as Superintendent of the County Hospital

Physician From Centerville Is Given Place at $250 a Month Salary

At a special meeting this morning at which Chairman John F. Mullins presided and all members were present, the Board of Supervisors appointed Dr. C. A. Wills of Centerville to succeed Dr. W. A. Clark as superintendent of the county infirmary. He will relieve the outgoing superintendent on March 1 and his salary will be $250 a month.

Dr. Wills is one of the most efficient young physicians of the county and a protege of Supervisor Daniel J. Murphy. The resolution providing for his appointment was introduced today by Murphy and seconded by Supervisor Bridge. When it was put to a vote the appointment of Dr. Wills was made unanimous.

EMPLOYMENT FOR DELINQUENTS

Representing the Child's Welfare League of Alameda county and the local federation of women's clubs, a delegation of prominent workers in both organizations, consisting of Mrs. Elsie Carlisle of Berkeley and Mrs. Nellie Nichols, Mrs. Jessie Jordan and Mrs. S. Knapp, held an interesting conference this forenoon in the hall of records with members of the Board of Supervisors in regard to the employment by the county of delinquent fathers and husbands for the benefit of their families and the establishment of polling places in election precincts that will invite women to exercise their right of franchise. The interview was held in the assembly room of the Board of Supervisors, which was represented by Chairman John F. Mullins and Supervisors Fred W. Ross, Daniel J. Murphy and Joseph M. Kelley, Deputy District Attorney Leon A. Clark was also present in an advisory capacity.

The primary object of the visit to the county lawmakers was to see if some step could not be taken to place in operation in the community the recently-enacted state law which provides that men found guilty of failing to provide for their families may be put to work upon county improvements at a wage of $1.50 a day, to be paid over to the family for its support and maintenance. The club women represented to the supervisors that they were deeply interested in this law on behalf of the Child's Welfare League and that they wished to discuss the matter with the supervisors with a view to the enforcement of the law in this county.

URGES SOME PROVISION.

"Tortuous," said Mrs. Carlisle, introducing the subject, "cases of failure to provide are comparatively small in Alameda county, but those that do exist are bad. In the opinion of our league, we brought under the law for the benefit of the neglected families, if this could be done."

Chairman Mullins explained to the committee the disadvantages that confronted the enforcement of the law in this county, stating that under present economic and physical conditions the taxpayers would have to bear too great an expense to warrant the enforcement of the law.

"We are confronted with a condition in this regard," said Chairman Mullins, "that seems to prohibit the board from inquiring the law in this county. Our county jail is located so far away from the public roads of the county that the expense that would attend the employment of these delinquent fathers upon those works would so far encompass the value of the work done as to make the relief to the families a public burden.

The supervisors under normal conditions would be pleased and anxious to give the proposed relief if conditions warranted the expenditure, but thus

'TAFT CERTAIN TO BE RE-ELECTED'---HILLES

Secretary Declares New York, Ohio and Indiana Are for the President

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—In the first authorized statement he has issued in connection with the Taft campaign, Charles D. Hilles, secretary to the President, predicted today that President Taft would be nominated and elected.

"President Taft's nomination is as certain as anything could be," said Hilles. "I am confident there will be comparatively little opposition to him in the national convention and when the nomination is made the Republicans of the country will rally to the party standard and win a great victory in November. I would not make this prediction did I not feel that my information from all parts of the country warrants me in doing so. It is easy to make big claims and to try to deceive people and I think that a man who does so without facts and Tenants of the Blake block, on the southwest corner of Washington and Twelfth streets, received notice to-day that the premises would have to be vacated by March 1, when the remodeling of the structure, at a cost of $75,000 will commence.

The building, which is at present largely occupied by the H. C. Capwell Company, will be thoroughly renovated. The upper floors will be rearranged into modern offices suitable for occupancy by physicians and dentists.

The main floor will be divided into seven twenty-foot frontage stores on Washington street and into two stores on Twelfth street.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Bids for constructing the gunboat Sacramento, opened today at the Navy Department, were higher than the $500,000 appropriation. The New York Shipbuilding Company sent word it could not build the Sacramento without a loss.

MRS. DE LA MONTANYA'S WILL HAS BEEN PROBATED

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 1.—The will of the late Lorena De La Montanya, wife of the Marquis James De La Montanya, who was found dead looking at roses sent to her by her husband, from whom she was divorced, was probated today. The estate amounts to about $25,000 and it is understood that a contest of Howard Barber, a brother, has been settled out of court. The finding of Mrs. De La Montanya shot in her apartments created quite a sensation at the time and the police conducted a rigid investigation.

figures to justify is guilty of deception.

"A month ago, before I had gotten in touch with Republicans in all the States, I would not have said this much. In that month I have seen the tide drawn closer and closer. In the last week the situation has cleared wonderfully with Republicans in all directions falling into line for the President and manifesting a determination to bring about his nomination."

"It is useless to speak in general terms or to undertake at short notice to go into conditions in each State, but developments in three of the big States within a few days ought to point conclusively to the present trend."

Hilles goes on to review conditions in New York, Ohio and Indiana, claiming that President Taft has received endorsement in those States which indicate that their delegates to him in the convention.

"There has been lots of noise in Ohio," said Hilles, "but the sub-tantial Republicans in every congressional district are determined the President shall have the delegates and he will get them, too."

"I have a telegram from Indianapolis saying that every single member of the Republican State committee elected in the thirteen congressional districts yesterday is for Taft. That is a big change from a committee whose chairman, Lee, went around Washington in December, proclaiming the Indiana was hostile to the President."

In regard to New York state, Hilles said:

"The President's speeches in New York so enthused the Republicans there that the executive committee of the county committee of New York county, practically by a unanimous vote, adopted resolutions endorsing the President and declaring for his renomination in the strongest terms."

"This was followed by a meeting of the general Republican committee of Kings county, Brooklyn. By a unanimous vote, Mr. Taft's renomination was urged. The information from the leaders in New York was uniformly that the President will have the delegation of the state."

"Indeed, the President's speeches have convinced Republicans to a degree that was not expected. I have not a doubt that every delegate from the state will be for him."

Summery action was taken by the city council this morning on the advice of City Attorney Ben F. Woolner to compel certain public service corporations to apply to the city for franchises for all users of the city streets. The council passed a resolution directing the corporations to cease excavating in the streets or erecting poles where such franchises are now granted for such privileges.

The corporations enjoyed certain privileges granted by the state legislature to the state prior to October 10, 1911. These rights were abridged by amendment to the state constitution, which provided that the corporations may establish and operate works only "under such regulations as the Legislature may prescribe under its organic law."

This applies to light, water, power, heat, transportation, telephone services and other means of communication. However, several corporations have been in the position to tear up the streets without applying to the city at all.

COUNCIL HAS POWER.

City Attorney Ben F. Woolner notified the council in response to an application for franchises that the council may enforce the charter regulations in regard to all such public service corporations.

Woolner's opinion is summed up in his letter as follows:

"In my opinion there is no question but that full control of the use of the streets of the city of Oakland is now vested in the council and that any franchise or privilege to put down pipes for steam heat in the streets of the city of Oakland may be granted by the council upon application thereof under such

The report is filed in accordance with state law and provisions of the city charter, and forms to some extent a basis for rate fixing by the city council.

The report will be turned over to City Expert J. H. Dookweller for critical examination to check it by data and statements made in the report, the report which is contained in a double volume of about 500 typewritten pages, gives the names and amounts paid by each consumer of water in the city of Oakland. The correctness of the report is sworn to in an affidavit attached by

The city council must commence taking testimony and gathering data upon which to fix the water rates for the next fiscal year this month. The actual rate fixing need not be done until June.

The council this morning decided to call Consulting Engineer J. H. Dookweller and other city councilmen and chairman of the water supply committee, Ben H. BERKELEY MAN OWNS FAMOUS 'BREECHES BIBLE'

EDITOR TRIBUNE: In your issue of January 26 there appeared a telegramatic item from Los Angeles stating that a Mrs. C. W. Cowley of that city had in her possession a copy of the so-called "Breeches Bible."

I have in my possession a finely preserved copy of the "Breeches Bible" of 1888. The octavo volume, enclosing same, includes the new testament of same period, concordance, metrical maps, wood cuts and other ancient material of interest. Yours truly,
J. E. FOULDS.

HEAR PRELIMINARIES OF BOURBON CONTEST

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—One of the House election committees today heard preliminary rounds of the contest between Edward House of Democratic and Richard Bartholdi of Republican, St. Louis.

The legality of the naturalization of Bartholdi is challenged and fraudulent registration is charged.

A Pricean, a South Carolina negro, appears before a committee of the House election committee to controvert the seal of George S. Lazzaro, Democrat. The contestant contends that affidavits of voters show he was elected. Previous contests by Pricean have been disallowed.

ATTORNEY NEWBURG IS CITED FOR CONTEMPT

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 1.—Attorney Adolph Newburg, who was indicted during the course of the so-called graft prosecution for an alleged attempt to bribe jurors, has apparently acquitted himself of the charge in a hearing before the court on Friday to show cause why he should not be punished for contempt. Mrs. Agnes Newburg, his wife, obtained a divorce decree September 28 with an allowance of $60 a month alimony, which it is claimed has not been paid for several months.

HAZZARD MURDER TRIAL NEARS END

Attorneys for Defense and the Prosecution Ready to Offer Arguments.

SEATTLE, Feb. 1.—Court convened at Port Orchard today with the prospect of all the evidence being in before night in the trial of Mrs. Linda Burfield Hazzard, accused of starting to death Miss Claire Williamson, a wealthy English woman. The defense announced that one witness would be called after the state had completed the cross-examination of Miss Nellie Sherman, a nurse, who cared for the Williamson sisters, one who was referred to by Mrs. Hazzard, according to the testimony of the state's witnesses as the "pure-minded youth." It is almost certain that the state will attempt to show that he endeavored to induce one of their most important witnesses, Miss Esther Cameron of Portland, Ore., to remain away from the trial. Webb was questioned concerning his alleged attempt during his cross-examination and denied the charge.

BOYD'S WILLAN UNIQUE DOCUMENT

Is Signed Three Times and Illustrated With Map of His Property.

Fearing that some "hungry lawyer" might try to dispute or break his last will and testament, filed for probate yesterday in the Superior Court the deceased John Boyd, civil war veteran, pioneer expressman and "town philosopher" of Berkely drew up all his intelligence and long experience to write a will which would preclude legal attack. He expressed the desire that if any executors were needed to wind up the estate the court would appoint Judge William H. Waste and Attorney Edmund C. Staats to serve in that capacity without bonds, "if they don't charge too much."

The will leaves to Sherman and Flora E. Boyd, children of the deceased, the latter's home and real property at 1915 Addison street, Berkely, "to have and hold until taxes are paid on the property for the time it remains as a residence, in which case the property may be sold and the proceeds divided equally."

Convertible securities and cash in bank are to be divided among the grand-children, Mrs. Laura B. Nelson, Lillian Francis and Thorle E. Boyd, while Fred and Myrtle Fonsio is given $10 each.

Boyd wrote the will in August, 1908. He signed it in three places and illustrated it with a map of his Addison street property.

The Oregon management calls the attraction of the patrons to the fact that all the acts on the bill this week will end their engagement next Saturday night except Reynolds and Donegan. Therefore the bill that goes on next Sunday will consist of all new acts.

Charlie Green and his company in "The Awakening of Mr. Pip," will not be seen after next Saturday. The Four Famous Vanis with their wonderful wire act will also play on Saturday. A. O. Smith and violinist, Misses Durand,hardt, the character singer Carson and Willard, comedians, Van and Schenck, singers and comedians, will all leave on Saturday night.

GERMAN DIPLOMAT WRITES ON MOROCCAN SITUATION

Count von Bernstorff Contributes Interesting Article on Recent Controversy

Oakland, Jan 30 1912. Editor TRIBUNE I am sending you an article from the Outlook of January 30, 1912, which I hope you will print. It will interest every German resident of our city.

GERMANY AND FRANCE.

With Special Reference To the Moroccan Question

By COUNT JOHANN HEINRICH VON BERNSTORFF.

German Ambassador to the United States.

Count von Bernstorff is the son of the well-known diplomat and statesman Count Albrecht von Bernstorff, who was at one time Germany's representative in Great Britain. Count Johann von Helmuth Bernstorff also entered upon diplomacy as a profession, and saw service in Constantinople, Belgrade, St. Petersburg, and London before going to Egypt, where he filled the important position of German Agent at Cairo. He was thence transferred to Washington as Ambassador, in succession to the late Baron Speck von Sternberg, and has continued that diplomatic career effectively. He is particularly well known in this country because of his many addresses on important public occasions, and these addresses have all been marked by an unmistakable note of authority.—The END

The Moroccan question has passed out of its controversial stage and is now a part of history; so that we are able to look back on it with an impartial spirit and to judge the aims and results of the German government's action with fairness—a fairness which seemed to be sometimes lacking during the heat of the discussion.

It is well known that since 1904 England and France were contending with each other for supremacy in Morocco. Then followed the Anglo-French agreement of April, 1904, and in the fall of the same year a French banking syndicate contracted a new large loan with Morocco.

Privileges on the part of the French were granted to the Bank of Paris to the amount of $100,000,000, and the Bank of Paris was given the right to draw upon the Sultan's Empire to be decided.

Germany, however, intervened, the Emperor visited Tangier, and a few months later the Conference of Algiers was held in which it pronounced the independence of Morocco and the sovereignty of the Sultan. It also created a multitude of provisions and stipulated the "open door" in Morocco. At the same time, however, powers were granted to France and Spain in eight open Moroccos, and further, a loan of $100,000,000 concerning the abovementioned loan was ratified with certain amendments. Above all, owing to the long Algero-Moroccan border line, the conference could not prevent French influence in Morocco from continuing and even increasing.

On account of the really unsettled and untenable conditions in Morocco—which it is no use denying—opportunities for the exertion of French influence could not long be wanting. In fact, the occupation of Vida and the bombardment of Casablanca soon followed. All this could have been prevented only if Germany had been inclined to restore order in Morocco, and first to go to war, as would have been inevitable with such a power as France, and not on her part.

The course of events will always prove to be more powerful than the most perfectly worded treaty provisions, and the Algiers Act could not expect to alter the fact that Morocco and her inhabitants no longer in themselves possessed the strength to reoccupy their country.

Some enthusiasts believed that Muley Hafid would be able to perform this task, but they soon had recognized that notwithstanding his skill and ability as a statesman, he did not have the power to bring about the necessary changes with outside assistance.

For the German government there was therefore only one way open to protect German commercial interests in Morocco, viz., by securing France's protection of their interests, which was achieved by the Morocco agreement of February 9, 1912, which expressly mentioned the Algiers Act as its basis.

Clearly, the object of this agreement could only be to delay French advance in Morocco as long as the German troops remained.

The German troops were in the meantime, under this same French protection, guaranteed by treaty, able to consolidate their interests in Morocco to such a degree that a French protectorate could not destroy them.

No one who had any knowledge of the Moroccan situation could have been surprised that the French would be able to perform this task.

Even though the German troops were in the neighborhood of Fez, formed a separate military unit, and were established and military posts were established.

Although assurances were given again and again that the military forces were to be withdrawn to the coast as soon as possible, it was evident that the larger part of the country would like the Spanish influence soon to directly controlled by French agents and military authorities.

During all this time semi-official German newspapers had constantly reiterated that, according to the communications received, Germany and the Entente were not at all in agreement. When these hints proved to be of no effect, the North German Gazette, on April 30, 1911, addressed a new warning to France which could not be misunderstood, defining that the Sultan governing with the aid of France, and recommended the severance of Sultan as defined by the Algiers Act, and that Germany therefore would be entitled to resume her former freedom of action. This warning was not heeded.

Even though their course and what was clear that a French protectorate must in the course of time be established.

This would have been considered the natural course of events had the aspect of affairs not suddenly changed when M. Pichon retired from the French Foreign Office and was replaced by M. Cruppi. It seems that colonial fanatics who could not await the ripening of the Moroccan fruit took advantage of the change to obtain the command of the new Minister of Foreign Affairs for the expedition to Fez. The pretended danger of the military mission and of the European colony in consequence of the rebellion of tribes in the neighborhood of Fez formed a very strong argument.

Although assurances were given again and again that the military forces were to be withdrawn to the coast as soon as possible, it was evident that the larger part of the country would like the Spanish influence soon to directly controlled by French agents and military authorities.

The Kind You Have Always Bought.

THIS is the caution applied to the public announcement of Castoria that has been manufactured under the supervision of Chas. H. Fletcher for over 30 years—the genuine Castoria. We respectfully call the attention of fathers and mothers when purchasing Castoria to see that the wrapper bears his signature in black. When the wrapper is removed the same signature appears on both sides of the bottle in red. Parents who have used Castoria for their little ones in the past years need no warning against counterfeits and imitations, but our present duty is to call the attention of the younger generation to the great danger of introducing into their families spurious medicines.

It is to be regretted that there are people who are now engaged in the nefarious business of putting up and selling all sorts of substitutes, or what should more properly be termed counterfeits, for medicinal preparations not only for adults, but worse yet, for children's medicines. It therefore devolves on the mother to scrutinize closely what she gives her child. Adults can do that for themselves, but the child has to rely on the mother's watchfulness.

Genuine Castoria always bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

BANK'S ASSET MAY BE OF GREAT VALUE

Defunct Concern's Lands at Tesla Supposed to Be Oil Bearing.

GOOD PROSPECTS HAVE BEEN FOUND ALREADY

The Depositors' Association to Oppose Winding Up of the Institution's Business.

LIVERMORE, Feb. 1.—The directors of the Depositors' Association of the defunct California Safe Deposit and Trust Company have declared that they believe that the 4700 acres of land held by the bank at and surrounding Tesla is to be valuable as oil lands and with that belief they held a meeting on Tuesday afternoon in San Francisco and decided to oppose the confirmation by the court of the proposal of Receiver Symmes that the affairs of the bank be wound up and the assets thereof be disposed of for $1,000,000. The case was called in Judge Sewell's court in that city on Wednesday, and was postponed for a week for further hearing.

This action upon the part of those who represent the Depositors' Association is due to examinations that have been made and the facts that have been learned about the Livermore oil field and the belief that the oil sands which make their appearance at the surface on the Hamilton ranch on section 15, slope away to the east and pass under the Tesla coal fields, which were hypothecated to the bank by the Treadwells as security for loans made to them and their different corporations.

LARGE ASSET.

One of the largest single assets of the wrecked bank consists of this land. The Treadwells have spent millions of dollars in various enterprises, one of which was a spasmodic effort to find oil. The story of the failure of the coal mines at Tesla and the success of the brick plant at Carnegie has already been told many times, but the history of the oil operations there has never been given the publicity it in fact, oil has never been mentioned in the reports of the company, nor has it been mentioned in the reports of the Treadwells in connection with the wrecked bank until it was brought up at the meeting in San Francisco this week. Even then it was only given out in a general way that those who are interested in trying to save a little more for the Depositors believed that oil could be developed upon these lands.

On the other hand, a compensation in the form of colonial territory, which had rarely been enough been mentioned during the earlier phases of the Morocco affair. Frequently the idea has been expressed in Germany that such a step should be taken. The government, however, had hesitated, hoping that the independence of Morocco might be maintained. The hope was now destroyed by the fact that the Treadwells had not been considered lucky for having been able to return to the idea of compensation.

It is well known that from the beginning this compensation was desired in the French Congo, in order to unite all possible means to settle the Morocco affair. Frequently the idea has been expressed in Germany that such a step should be taken. The government, however, had hesitated, hoping that the independence of Morocco might be maintained.

It was frankly said that those who held this belief were basing their hopes upon the operations that are now being carried on in the Livermore field.

STATEMENT GIVEN OUT.

A statement was given out from which the following is taken:

"The secret motive underlying the inquiry made about the properties of the California Safe Deposit and Trust Company which lie near Tesla is out.

It is not so much the Carnegie Brick and Pottery Company, which the bank leased to its detriment as it is the Tesla coal lands. This tract of about 4700 acres owned by the bank is assessed at only $150 an acre, but we have learned that it is oil land. I have been over the land in company with L. A. Stieger, the oil expert, who declares that evidences of oil were unmistakable.

The Rockefellers have options on the Hamilton ranch, on which a well is now being driven, and oil with a paraffine base and a gravity of 37 Baume has been found. Light oil of this grade is said to be worth from $2 to $2.50 a barrel, while crude petroleum with an asphaltum base is only worth from 30 to 50 cents a barrel.

With a Western Pacific station on the Tesla land, the property is said to be worth from $7.50 an acre or over $4,000,000. It is more than a fighting chance and is a good reason why we are opposing the sale of the entire assets of the bank, including these lands, for less than one-fourth of that amount."

LOCAL CONCERN.

There are some inaccuracies in this statement, but they are only slight. The Hamilton ranch operations are not under direction of the Rockefellers, but are being conducted by two local concerns. The Independence Oil Company is working at the old Hamilton place proper and is evidently the plant referred to in the statement. Another paragraph says:

"On the Hamilton ranch, which ad-

Mass California's Exhibits.

At the Panama-Pacific Exposition there should be the most compendious and complete display of California's resources and productions ever presented. No section of the State should be overlooked, no industry neglected. Everything indicating California's climatic attractions and versatility of soil and production should be included in an exhibit arranged with an eye to pictorial effect.

But this cannot be done unless there is co-operation and vigorous effort in every county in the State. Everybody everywhere must lend a hand, and not begrudge spending money. The exposition will be the biggest advertisement California ever had, and good advertising is the offspring of brains and money. All the State possesses should be shown as a proof to the stranger that California offers unrivaled opportunities and advantages to the settler and investor.

But a complete exhibit cannot be made unless there is co-operation in every township and village, every nook and corner. The several counties should collaborate and work together and in harmony with the exposition managers.

California's exhibit should be massed, so that it may be surveyed and measured as a whole, not scattered about without any regard for general effect. The county buildings should be tastefully set immediately about the general State exhibit, which should be as complete as money, talent and energy can make it. A great mistake will be made if the exhibit is broken up into detached fragments and the county buildings located here and there and everywhere, without relation to each other or regard for unity.

The various county exhibits should be massed in one comprehensive whole, separate and apart from everything else. California is sui generis and should keep to herself and by herself. The decision to that effect should be made while plans are being drawn and preparations are in progress. Delay is likely to result in confusion and lack of concert. Now is the time to work out a plan for massing all the California exhibits.

The Fresno Republican—which is Chester H. Rowell—contends that the people of the State have nothing to say about what is taught in the State University. Of course not; all the people have to do with the institution is to pay taxes for its maintenance. Academic freedom is being made an excuse for all sorts of strange theorizing in our universities, exploited under pretense of imparting education. In California history teaching has degenerated into a carping criticism of the founders of the republic and a studied distortion of the truth as regards the separation of the colonies from England. When Professor Henry Morse Stephens says Washington acted like a cad, we are told no one must object because that is the truth of history. When it is said that the hanging of Major Andre was a wanton and unnecessary bit of cruelty for which Washington should have been ashamed, there must be no protest, because that is historical truth and academic freedom must not be restricted. Absurd and partisan criticisms and conclusions are passed off as the result of impartial investigation, and the pope of all priggery says the people who pay the bills have nothing to say about it.

All the circumstances indicate that Bert H. Franklin, the "private detective" charged with bribing jurymen in the McNamara case, has turned State's evidence against Clarence Darrow. Which is quite natural. Franklin exemplifies the morals and methods of the average private detective.

In deciding to stop building battleships the Democrats have again demonstrated their incapacity to deal with national questions in a broad, patriotic spirit. The United States does not need a vast naval armament such as England maintains, but she does require an effective navy sufficiently powerful to protect our coasts and outlying possessions and enforce the Monroe Doctrine. At a heavy cost a fine fleet has been built, adequately manned and equipped, and now the Democrats decline to maintain its standard of efficiency or keep it up. However, they are willing to vote all sorts of money to erect public buildings in small interior towns and improve the navigation of insignificant Southern rivers.

Imprisonment for Debt.

Our neighbor, the Alameda Argus, says putting a man in jail for refusing to pay alimony as the courts direct is imprisonment for debt. It is, in fact, although the delinquent is jailed ostensibly for contempt of court.

But the laws making it a misdemeanor not to pay a hotel bill and for the hire of an automobile are even worse than the statutes which empower judges to send men to prison for non-payment of alimony. Those laws not only create a preferred creditor class, but provide that criminal process may be used for the collection of debt. The delinquent can be arrested and given a jail sentence as a criminal for non-payment of a board bill or for the hire of an automobile.

If the merchant, the butcher, the baker and the candlestick-maker give credit, they cannot have their delinquent debtors arrested and imprisoned at the public expense; they must recover their dues by civil process, hiring their own attorneys and paying the costs of court out of their own pockets.

But the owner of a hotel or an automobile can give credit at will, secure in the knowledge that the District Attorney, the Sheriff and the criminal law will do his collecting at the public expense, or consign the delinquents to a prison cell.

Woodrow Wilson has added another member to the roll of the Ananias Club he opened with the name of Colonel Henry Watterston. He accuses the Trenton correspondent of the New York Sun with faking an entire interview in which the scholar-politician was quoted as reflecting on Grover Cleveland. The correspondent stoutly avers that Governor Wilson said everything imputed to him, and there you are. It reminds one of the good old days when Colonel Roosevelt sat in the White House.

The cocked hat seems to be the emblem of Democratic harmony just now.

Senator La Follette proposes to make the judges of the United States Supreme Court subject to recall. The proposition involves destroying and remaking the Federal Constitution. Supreme Justices are appointed by the President and confirmed by the Senate, and hold for life unless they choose to retire voluntarily after reaching the age of seventy, or are removed by impeachment. It would destroy the court's usefulness to make the justices subject to recall by the popular vote. Therefore Senator La Follette suggests that the constitution be fundamentally changed and our whole system of government revolutionized. He is attacking the foundations of law and order in assailing the independence of the judiciary. In fact, he does not deny that his intention is to make public opinion the court of last resort. Which means that the constitution would be anything at any time that the popular will wants it to be—a thing as pliant and variable as the emotions of the multitude.

The announcement that it will take six months to erect the steel frame of the new city hall should occasion no surprise. The man who superintends the work is paid by the month—by the city, not the contractor.

Whatever one may think of the policy and propriety of tipping, it is ridiculous for any lawmaking body to undertake to make it a public offense for one person to make a present to another. That is what a tip is—a present, a gratuity, an honorarium. The Kentucky Legislature proposes to make giving a waiter, or porter, or bellboy a dime or a quarter an offense punishable by law. It is absurd. As well attempt to put in prison a man who gives a trifle to a tramp or a beggar. It is quite true that the tipping custom is responsible for organized imposition in some places, but hotel managers are more responsible than anybody else for the abuse. It is the patron who suffers. The Kentucky solons propose to penalize him for getting decent service in the only way he can, and to do it in a way that interferes with the right of an individual to dispose of his own in any way he chooses.

If Colonel Bryan insisted on naming the candidate and dictating the platform he might as well take the nomination and be defeated a fourth time. The real world as soon have Bryan President as his deputy and would, perhaps, prefer to take his nostrums from his own hands.

La Follette says he will stay in the race till the finish. Well, his finish is in sight. He never had more than the ghost of a show, and the injection of Roosevelt into the campaign has deprived him of even that slim chance.

The San Francisco chauffeur who suspected that his carburetor was leaking proved he was right by touching a lighted match to the supposed leak. Incidentally the car burned up, but that is a mere matter of detail. The chauffeur demonstrated the fact that there was a leak.

BENEFACTIONS OF 1911

The public benefactions of 1911 have amounted in this country to more than $150,000,000, according to the figures compiled for the 1912 issue of the World Almanac.

This total was never exceeded, except in 1900, when the aggregate approximated $175,000,000.

Andrew Carnegie has this year given away more than $40,000,000. His largest gift was $25,000,000 to the Carnegie Corporation of New York, especially organized by the legislature at Albany to carry on the iron man's charities.

Mr. Carnegie, who is now a little more than 77 years of age, has given to the public over $221,000,000.

The late J. D. Rockefeller's publicly announced gifts have not amounted in all to more than $3,000,000, of which $1,000,000 went to the University of Chicago and $1,000,000 to the research in New York City. The rest was to colleges for west and south. The donation to the University of Chicago was the second annual installment of the "single and final gift" of $10,000,000 to that institution.

The second largest individual gift was Frederick C. Hewitt, who left $2,000,000 to the Post Graduate Medical School and Hospital and $2,000,000 to the Little Missionary Day Nursery, both in New York.

Joseph Pulitzer bequeathed more than $3,000,000 to public uses.

The missionary societies of America reported that their gifts have exceeded $13,000,000 in the year.

A GROWING ORDER

We observe that the dignified strum wears a handsome badge bearing a peculiar monogram of letters.

"What may ask?" we courteously inquire, "what is the solution of that monogram?"

"It's the badge of a little order I belong to," he smiles. "The letters forming the monogram are M. W. H. R. F. P. W. J. B."

We shake our head helplessly and he explains:

"It means Men Who Have Run for Vice-President with William Jennings Bryan."—Chicago Record-Herald.

You boast about the things they do And stick their chests far out and strut, They place their handwork on view And prize the praise that thus is won.

But—

What of the things they leave undone?

We build, we clear the trackless wild,

We fill the air with smoke and smut,

We hurry past the erring child,

We boast of profits we have won.

But—

What of the things we leave undone?

ARMY OF THE DESERT

An Arab girl is wearing the colors of the Fifteenth Regiment of Italian Infantry as a petticoat, and the long green rain-case of the flag, with its brazen spear-shaped top, was brought to my tent today by Tashir Bey. There is a new influx of rifles, cavalry carbines, saddles, swords and cartridges to swell the Turkish war supplies. The hills and hollows of the desert, usually so lonely, are alive with men and horses and dotted everywhere with tents. There are tents of every size and hue—a shape, the green rot-proof canvas of the headquarters staff, the white bell-tents of the soldiers, the low black cloth-roofed booths of the Arab irregulars and the rough sacking and flour-bag shelters hastily set up for women and children and camp-followers.

And even that one has spoken only of the regular Turkish soldiers. There still remain the uncouth desert men who have ranged themselves under the Crescent flag to wage war for their liberty. Daily they continue to arrive, on horseback, camel and foot, from places five and ten and even twenty days' ride away.

There are Arabs from Tripoli, Tunis, Fezzan, Algiers, a handful even from distant Morocco. Fuzzy-headed Sudanese, negroes, silver-gray with dust and sunburn, light-eyed Bedouins and veiled horsemen from the Libyan Sabs pour in to help the Turks and harass the Italians with nightly forays through the ruined gardens.

There are, not counting the rives and carbines captured from the Italians nor the regulation arms dealt out by the Turks, weapons of every kind and age in the camp. I have seen within a few hundred yards of one another a chassepot rifle, a double-barreled shotgun, a two-handed Crusader's sword (a magnificent piece of steel over four feet long), a scimitar, and a Moors curved dagger and an automatic pistol.—London Express

OUR GOLD SUPPLY

The public will probably receive with qualified gratitude the announcement that the world's output of gold is still increasing. Gold production has been rising steadily in the last two decades. In 1890 its value was only $118,548,000. In 1900 the value had risen to $254,576,000 and in 1909 to $454,703,000. In 1910 the director of the mint reports that it reached $466,000,000.

The world has been deluged with the yellow metal. Each year now puts almost as much fresh gold at public disposal as every five years did a generation ago. It is no wonder that stability in values and prices has been upset and that the cost of living has increased. In 1886 this country resolved to stop the inflation in prices due to the coining of silver, which had become so plentiful as to lose about half its former value compared with gold. Now through that enormous increase in the production of gold many of the consequences have been realized which would have resulted from a continued coining of silver, the gold output remaining stationary. The inflation of commodity values has been world-wide. The demonetization of silver came none too soon. If the production of gold continues to increase it is even possible to conceive of a demand arising, for some sort of check on the free coining of gold.

Director Robert's prediction that the world's gold production will not continue to increase at the pace set since 1890 may be regarded as reassuring. He believes that the gold output will now tend to become stationary, or even to decline, thus giving time to digest the over-production of the last two decades. The world needs a little rest from the strain or readjustment put upon its economic machinery.—New York Tribune.

20 YEARS AGO IN OAKLAND

The committee on rules and regulations of the Board of Education met last night in the high school and took testimony regarding the alleged disobedience of Mine, Ferrier in continuing the use of Herman in her class after the book had been forbidden by Principal McChesney.

Superintendent of Streets Wall this morning stopped work on the city terminal at Eighth street and Broadway of the Sessions-Vanderbilt road, claiming that the work was not being done according to the terms of the company's franchise.

Mrs. Leucia Tisdale of Alameda, who has been in the East visiting friends and relatives during the last year, will soon go abroad with her cousins, the Misses Lewis of Buffalo N. Y., to remain a year.

The wife of Moses Hopkins leaves Timothy Hopkins $310,000. He is no relative of the deceased. The bulk of the Moses Hopkins estate, about $3,000,000, goes to the widow.

Dr. Gray Smith left his horse and buggy outside of E. A. Heron's real estate office last night and when he came out it was gone.

Marion Hedges, the train robber of Glendale, Mo., was arrested in San Francisco yesterday at the Postoffice by Detectives Byram and Officers Cody and Campbell. He put up a desperate fight.

Two loaded revolvers were found upon him as well as near $1,000 in cash.

William Ward and Robert Walsh, two fruit peddlers, were arrested by Officer Banks at Eighth and Linden yesterday for peddling fruit without a license. Ward is a brother of Jockey Ward, a well-known California turfite, and is very much in size as well as in weight.

PLENTY OF PROOF

From People You Know--From Oakland Citizens.

The greatest skeptic can hardly fail to be convinced in the face of evidence like this. It is impossible to produce better proof of merit than the testimony of residents of Oakland of people who can be seen at any time. Read the following case of it.

Dr. R. F. Marshall, 630 E. Twelfth street, Oakland, Cal., says, "I am glad at all times to recommend Dean's Kidney Pills and I take pleasure in confirming the statement I gave in their praise in 1907. I practiced medicine in Marshalltown and Marshall County, Ia., for twenty-one years and during that time became convinced of the value of Dean's Kidney Pills. Their use brought me great relief from kidney trouble in fact, I can say that no other preparation ever helped me as much as they did. Being thus convinced of the value of Dean's Kidney Pills I prescribe them in all cases of kidney complaint and I never heard of their failing to give the best of results. With other physicians in my old home as well as myself, Dean's Kidney Pills were considered to be a most effective kidney medicine."

"EAST LYNNE" ON FILM AT CAMERA THEATER

The Thanhouser Company, which has one of the largest trades of any independent film in America, has attracted attention to themselves by the splendid quality of their work. Their subjects have been well chosen and cleverly worked out; their comedy has been at all times clean and wholesome as well as amusing; their romances have been well presented; their historical scenes and their drama have been worked out in a masterly fashion, that vivid realism which fairly makes the heart stand still.

One of the finest releases which the Thanhouser Company has ever put out is "East Lynn," the world's best known play, in two reels 2000 feet, which will be shown at the Camera theater, today and tomorrow.

To the intelligent person this picture is a wonderful lesson. Those familiar with the story from which the picture was made will be thrice glad to press it to their hearts, and the story where a startling moral staves at one with such vivid intensity that you can almost hear a still, small voice asking, "Is this you?" In fact it is a wonderful production with scarcely a fault to be found.

Several other new pictures, notable among which will be views of Cardinal Farley's home-coming and the big parade in his honor at New York city, will complete one of the best programs of photoplays yet exhibited at Oakland's busiest photoplay theater, the Camera theater.

STUDENTS ESCAPE WHEN OLD ACADEMY BURNS

BINGHAMPTON, N. Y., Feb. 1.—St. Joseph's academy, a historic Catholic institution here, was destroyed by fire late last night. All the girl students and their twenty-two instructors escaped without injury. The fire was started by a lace curtain being blown against a lighted match.

The academy building was constructed before the war and many prominent women received their early instruction there. The institution will be rebuilt immediately.

The Thanhouser Company, which has one of the largest trades of any independent film in America, has attracted attention to themselves by the splendid quality of their work. Their subjects have been well chosen and cleverly worked out; their comedy has been at all times clean and wholesome as well as amusing; their romances have been well presented; their historical scenes and their drama have been worked out in a masterly fashion, that vivid realism which fairly makes the heart stand still.

One of the finest releases which the Thanhouser Company has ever put out is "East Lynn," the world's best known play, in two reels 2000 feet, which will be shown at the Camera theater, today and tomorrow.

To the intelligent person this picture is a wonderful lesson. Those familiar with the story from which the picture was made will be thrice glad to press it to their hearts, and the story where a startling moral staves at one with such vivid intensity that you can almost hear a still, small voice asking, "Is this you?" In fact it is a wonderful production with scarcely a fault to be found.

Several other new pictures, notable among which will be views of Cardinal Farley's home-coming and the big parade in his honor at New York city, will complete one of the best programs of photoplays yet exhibited at Oakland's busiest photoplay theater, the Camera theater.

Remember the name—Dean's—and take no other.

WOMAN INDIAN AGENT ACCUSED

Charge of Brutality Investigated by Official of the United States.

YUMA, Ariz., Feb. 1.—Inspector G. H. Lipp of the Bureau of Indian Affairs left last night for Lewiston, Idaho, after spending several days here investigating a charge of alleged brutality brought against Miss Egen, agent of the Yuma reservation. He did not make known the result of his investigation.

The case brought to the attention of the Indian bureau was that of a boy pupil at the Indian school who was said to have been brutally flogged by order of the agent. The charge was made by J. A. Crouch of the Methodist mis-

REDUCTION IN EXPRESS RATES TO BE SOUGHT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—A reduction of approximately 30 per cent in the express rates of the country, if developed, would save the nation $10,000,000 annually, according to the express business before the Interstate Commerce Commission. Testimony of witnesses indicated that this was the motive behind the inquiry.

Several express companies representing ship-owners were examined, their testimony being largely technical. Charles A. Stickney of St. Paul, Minn., declared he paid 50 cents for the express transportation of advertising plates of five pounds or under, while the same cost paid only 25 cents for similar service.

The proposed reductions would amount to about two and a half times the flat-class freight rate.

FIRE RECORDS BROKEN IN FROZEN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Feb. 1.—New records were set for the month of January both in the weather bureau and the fire department. It was the coldest month ever recorded in the history of the city. The mean temperature was 14 degrees. The average January day should record 23.7 degrees, according to Major R. B. Hersey, temperature head of the weather bureau. The coldest day was January 7, when 16 below zero was recorded.

There were 21,100 alarms. The previous record was 15,433 alarms, on January 19, 1910. The highest number of alarms for one day was on January 4, when there were 170.

MILITIA CAPTAIN IS ASKED TO RESIGN

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 1.—Adjutant-General Forbes has sent a letter to Major W. S. Kay asking for the resignation of Captain J. E. Boden, Troop B, National Guard cavalry. Boden is the second captain of the Sacramento Company, E, Second Regiment, being the first. No reason is given for removing Boden, but there has been trouble concerning the canton maintained at the guard headquarters, for which Boden is held to be officially though not directly responsible. He has been in the service twenty years and was considered a good officer.

It is not expected that the owners of the houses will fight the injunction suits, and they will in all probability be made permanent.

STOCKTON CLERGY AND UNDERTAKERS UNITE

STOCKTON, Feb. 1.—Through an agreement reached between the ministers and the undertakers of this city no more funerals will be conducted in Stockton on Sunday. This law goes into effect tomorrow. In cases of death from contagious diseases, funerals will be permitted only by order of the health authorities. Legal advice is being sought by the Rural Cemetery Association as to its right to refuse Sunday burials, that association desiring to aid the no-Sunday funeral movement.

HOLD-UP EPIDEMIC GRIPS LOS ANGELES

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 1.—Chief of Police Sebastian finds that the regular force of 567 men is inadequate to cope with the situation, owing to the number of citizens, mostly highwaymen, and proposed to appoint 20 prominent citizens special officers without pay to help out. The Commissioner is ready to approve his plan, and he will name his men within a week.

These citizens, who will be picked by the chief in person, are to wear regular badges, and hold themselves ready to respond to calls at any moment, day or night, and to be thoroughly instructed and will be expected to make arrests whenever occasion warrants. Men who make application will not be considered.

The main purpose is to break up the hold-up epidemic.

SPARLING DIED FROM POISON

TOLEDO, Mich., Feb. 1.—A coroner's jury yesterday, conducting inquests to determine the cause of death of John Wesley Sparling Sr. and his son Peter Sparling, decided that both men came to their deaths from the effects of a draught of the University of Michigan beer that had been found to contain a trace of arsenic in both stomachs.

There need be no doubt about the ability of this great old remedy, made from the roots and herbs of our fields, to remedy woman's diseases. We possess volumes of proof of this fact, enough to convince the most skeptical. Why don't you try it?

POLITICAL POT IS BOILING IN PANAMA

Remarkable Developments Are Forecasted in the Present Presidential Campaign.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Central American circles here are agog over reports coming from Panama forecasting some remarkable developments in the presidential campaign now in progress there.

According to these reports, President Arsenio, who recently secured a six months' leave of absence from the legislature, with permission to leave Panama, will return before the expiration of his leave and resume his office, which he left in the hands of Senor Chiria, one of the designates, who is a member of the Liberal party and opposed to Arsenio.

Resumption of office by President Arsenio before the expiration of his term would make him ineligible to succeed himself. Therefore his return would mark the abandonment of his canvass for re-election. It is said that as the next step in the campaign which is destined to truly last, the president will throw his full strength to Santer Arias, at present minister to Washington, and make him the candidate of the Conservative party.

"These children might be so changed that the human form would be entirely different than now. I fear it would have a weakened effect upon them mentally and physically."

"A vegetable diet alone is a bad thing for the human race," continued Dr. Wiley. "A certain amount of meat, I believe, is necessary, both as body and brain food, and to answer all the requirements of a human being."

Dr. Wiley, with a twinkle in his eye, added:

"I would not like to trust my progeny to a vegetable diet."

"Meat raised and killed under proper conditions, with vegetables and fruit strictly fresh and properly cooked and served, make a combination that should satisfy anyone."

"Yes, it would be my sincere advice to my countrymen: Eat meat, lest we in future generations become devitalized instead of the highly superior beings we are striving to become."

OAKLAND TRIBUNEWILEY IN ATTACK ON VEGETARIANISM

Declares Human Race Would Deteriorate Without Meat.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—"I would not like to say what will become of the children of the vegetarian if a purely vegetable diet is persisted in for a number of generations," said Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, pure-food expert for the government yesterday.

ALUMNI HEAD BARRED BY COURT

President of Association Can't Be ex-Officio Regent, Judges Decide.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 1.—The legislative act of 1909, making the president of the Alumni Association of the University of California ex-officio regent of the university, was declared unconstitutional in a decision handed down yesterday by the district court of appeals. The decision was rendered in a case instituted by J. K. Moffit, former president of the alumni association, to determine the validity of his position as ex-officio regent.

The district court held that the legislative act was contrary to article IX, section 9, of the constitution and therefore invalid. The alumni association and the regents worked in harmony in presenting the case to the court, the only desire being to obtain a judicial determination of the validity of the act, which had been in doubt.

CHINESE ENTRANTS LIMITED BY BILL

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Senator Jones of Washington yesterday introduced a bill which provides that no Chinese or person of Chinese descent, who crosses the Pacific ocean with the purpose, immediate or ultimate, of entering or re-entering the United States, except Chinese diplomatic consular officers and their dependents, shall land in the United States elsewhere than at such specific ports as may be designated by the Secretary of Commerce and Labor Provision is also made that if any such person shall enter the United States without being inspected and admitted by the United States immigration officers at said ports, he shall be deported to the trans-Pacific country whence he came.

ALUMINUM TO REPLACE STEEL ON AEROPLANES

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Aluminum substitute for steel on various parts of the aero-wireless apparatus now being tested at the army aerodrome at Augusta, Ga., has reduced the weight of the equipment approximately twenty pounds.

Officers of the Signal Corps laboratory in this city under Major Charles M. Sultman, have been experimenting to perfect wireless equipment for aeroplanes.

For more than a month has the little craft been buffeted in the Caribbean sea by wind and wave, forbidden a landing to wind and wave, for months. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too.

They will be in aluminum instead of steel, to the Augusta aerodrome.

HOSPITAL BOARD IS REORGANIZED

No Action Taken by Officials Regarding Successor to Dr. E. Stone.

NAPA, Feb. 1.—The board of managers of the Napa state hospital reorganized last night by electing John S. Chambers of Sacramento, president and David Rutherford of Oakland vice-president. Dr. Elmer Clark of Santa Rosa, Ernest Phillips of Sacramento, and Thomas Dozier of San Francisco were the other members of the board who attended the meeting.

Answering the criticism directed at the inactivity of the board of managers, Dozier said the members were frequently handicapped because functions that should be within their province were held by the state lunacy commission and the state engineering department.

No action was taken by the board to name a successor to Dr. Elmer Clark, the superintendent, who was forced to resign.

Dr. W. C. Matthews, first assistant physician under Dr. Stone, has been temporarily acting as superintendent. The custom has been that the first assistant physician automatically succeeds to the post of superintendent. Dr. Matthews was recently brought from New York by Dr. Stone. So was Dr. W. S. Porter, the third assistant physician.

It is said that the board of managers will not adhere to the usual custom, but will appoint Dr. John Rogers, second assistant physician, as acting superintendent at their meeting today. It is imperative that the vacancy caused by the resignation of Dr. Stone be filled so that claims may be passed on and accounts of the hospital settled.

SHORTAGE FEARED BY LUMBER TRADE

All Vessels Forced to Remain Inside Bars Until Stormy Weather Clears.

The Alaska Pacific steamer Buckman arrived on this side of the bay this morning. The Buckman is in charge of Captain Wilson and comes from Seattle via Tacoma ports. She reported full passage, heavy seas, and the greater part of the time she is picking up 500 tons of freight from Long wharf and discharging 300 tons of merchandise.

After being in the mud off East Oaklawn for the past two months the steam schooner Scotia left the stream in tow of the tug Pilot. The schooner's engines are in a poor condition and she will go on the ways of a port for an indefinite time this week.

The number of vessels already in the trade seeming to be not capable of handling the lumber called for, thus making an alarming lumber shortage all along the coast.

The bars off the different lumber ports are reported to be in an unsettled condition accounting for a large amount of the lumber shortage at this time.

According to some of the local shippers, the vessels lying idle in this port will soon have to be pressed into the lumber service in order to break the threatened lumber shortage.

LEAVES COAL.

After discharging coal at the Pacific Fuel bunkers, the steamer Homer ran around to the Oakland Dock and Warehouse company's wharf. Here she discharged small amount of coal and last night she left for San Francisco.

A pile driver with a large crew of workmen at work on the city wharf at the foot of Franklin street re-enforcing the weak piling. The piles supporters of the wharf are in a poor condition and the dolphin at the end has been practically torn to pieces by the waves or the piles swinging to and fro in the wind. The re-enforcing of the piling on the Hunter Lumber company's wharf is being rushed and it is expected that the wharf will be completed in time for the arrival of the schooner Liza. Liza left the stream in tow of the Oakland Launch and Tugboat company's tug Panama yesterday afternoon. She took her to San Francisco from where she leaves for lumber.

After discharging a small amount of freight at the Oakland Dock and Warehouse company's wharf the river steamer St. Helena left for San Francisco. The steam schooner Lahina is at the Sunet 600,000 feet of lumber. The river steamer Constantine is in the California Transportation company's wharf, discharging and receiving freight. She leaves for Stockton this afternoon. The tugs Valiant and Dixie shifted barges and pile-drivers around the stream this morning.

SOCIETY FETE TO BE HELD AT BOTTOM OF PACIFIC OCEAN

Catalina Waters to Be Scene of Submarine Party in Near Future.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 1.—Details of the most remarkable social function in recorded history became known here with the announcement that 80 of the prominent society women of this city, San Francisco and Pasadena are planning a submarine fete, to be held early in March on the bottom of the ocean off Santa Catalina Island. The guests are to be entertained in diving suits which will be supplied with individual oxygen tanks or air tubes. Dainty debutantes their tresses tightly bound about their heads, and these encased in huge copper helmets, will promenade the floor of the sea with pounds of lead on the sole of each pink foot, and their fetching sylphs enclosed from top to toe in close-fitting suits of rubber. Beweiled society leaders whose names are known to readers of Coast Sunday papers, will congregate under forty to eighty feet of green water, exchange social amenities in the sign language, while amazed minors peer through the helmet windows and friendly dolphin bump to and fro.

Walter Howison Pritchard, a marine artist now in Pasadena, is to be the host and he is arranging the program. He says he will show his guests how to paint under water. The safety contrivances to make this possible are his invention and he has tried them.

'Twas Too Tight

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—A graphic story of her embarrassing appearance when she attended a wedding in a new dress which climbed up to her knees and then split across the back when she tried to sit down won a favorable decision for Miss I. Hess, a wealthy St. Louis woman in the Third District municipal court in a suit brought by Leonard Cohn, a woman's tailor of this city, to recover an unpaid balance of $31, claimed to be due on the gown.

Miss Hess, who is slender and has a mass of golden hair and large blue eyes, was the principal witness.

"I was waiting for the gown when it was delivered," she testified, "and slipped right into it and hurried to a wedding. When it came time for me to sit down it was awful," she declared, with a blush.

Pressed to explain, she added: "It climbed right up from my feet. It seemed as though it would come right up to my waist. I rose and tried to sit again, holding it down at my knees—and was judge, it just split, that was all. I had to leave the wedding. So I sent it back with a yard and a half of material to be made more full," she continued.

"A yard and a half?" gasped the judge. "It was not all for the hips," explained Cohn's wife, from the audience. "It was to make the whole dress more full."

Miss Hess testified, further that she sent the dress back for alterations six times, and that when it finally was fixed to fit properly it was out of style.

"She ordered a tight dress, and she got it," Mrs. Cohn's complaint.

Miss Hess' mother and a friend, Mrs. Margaret Hay, both testified that the skimpiness of the gown had not been exaggerated.

Judge Murray said that Miss Hess need not pay the $31.

Widow Is Victor

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 1.—Suit over the estate of Guillermo Andrade, estimated at about $200,000, was yesterday decided by Judge Wilbur in favor of Mrs. Guadalupe D. Bilm, widow of Andrade.

The suit arose out of an old partnership, dating back to 1876, when Thomas H. Blithe and Guillermo Andrade formed a co-partnership to purchase lands in Lower California and Mexico. They started with a capital of less than $50,000. They bought, among other lands, 100,000 hectares in Lower California, on the west bank of the Colorado river, the island of Tiburon and large ranches in that country.

Numerous concessions were received from the Mexican government by the partners. At this time title to all the lands was in the name of Andrade. In 1882 Blithe died, and immediately claimants to his estate boldly took in all portions of the country, until there were 100 claimants.

In 1905 Andrade traded the Isle of Tiburon to the Mexican government for other lands. In September, 1905, Andrade died.

The suit was filed in 1906, and at that time the lands were valued at $223,000, and $15,000 in cash was awarded.

EDWIN HAWLEY DIES SUDDENLY IN GOTHAM DEVOTION TO BUSINESS IS FATAL TO RAILWAY HEAD

END COMES EARLY IN DAY

Nervous Indigestion Brings On Heart Failure; Suffered Dangerous Relapse

Was Head of Many Eastern Lines; Began His Career as a Clerk

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—Edwin Hawley, the railroad magnate, died at his home here this morning. Hawley had been a sufferer from nervous indigestion for some time and for the last few weeks had been confined to his house at 19 East Sixtieth street. Frequent reports that his condition was serious were denied and only yesterday Hawley said he hoped to be down town within a week or so. His death came at 4 o'clock this morning.

Among the companies of which Hawley was a director were the Colorado & Southern railroad, Colorado Fuel and Iron Company, the Evansville & Terre Haute railway, the Minneapolis & St. Louis, the Iowa Central, and the Hocking Valley railroad. Early in the winter Hawley had an attack of grippe and returned to work before he had sufficiently recovered. Although he suffered a severe attack and his physician told him that he would have to take a long rest. Since then Hawley was confined to the house and recently he began to suffer from indigestion. Early this morning Hawley was seized with heart failure and death soon ensued. No arrangements have as yet been made for the funeral.

IN TOUCH WITH OFFICE.

Notwithstanding his illness Hawley kept in constant touch with his business affairs and occasionally received visitors at his home to discuss matters of sufficient importance.

The work of Hawley on the railroad has often been compared to that of the late Edward H. Harriman. With his associates Hawley controlled the Chesapeake & Ohio, the Iowa Central, the Minneapolis & St. Louis, the Missouri, Kansas & Texas, the Hocking Valley, the Toledo, St. Louis & Western, and other lines. Quite recently he was asked to undertake the readjustment of the affairs of the Washash railroad. The stock market was not affected by the news of Hawley's death. Chesapeake & Ohio went off 2 points, however.

He was 61 years of age and his earliest railroad service began in 1867 as a boy on the Erie railroad. His important work was done between 1880 and 1882 in the service of the Southern Pacific, where he was the right-hand man of the late Collis P. Huntington. The so-called Hawley system of railroads has been built up within the last fifteen years.

Hawley was a bachelor and the only relative with him when he died was his nephew, Walter S. Crandall, a member of the Hawley firm. Hawley had just finished preparations for a trip to Palm Beach, where he expected to spend the rest of the winter. Newman Erb, who was one of Mr. Hawley's closest business associates, said today:

"Mr. Hawley had comprehensive plans under way at the time of his death, for development of railroad properties in which he was interested. These plans were known to his friends, and I believe they will be carried on without interruption. So far as the Minneapolis & St. Louis and Iowa Central are concerned, Mr. Hawley had relieved himself of the handling of these properties by placing the work entirely in my hands."

Broken Axle Delays S. P. Electric Train

A broken axle on a motor car of the Southern Pacific local train leaving Fourteenth and Franklin streets at 8:35 this morning caused a delay in one trip. The accident occurred before the train had gained much headway, and beyond the break no damage was done. Another train was sent out from the mole in time to make the next scheduled run.

ANNUAL NUMBER OF THE TRIBUNE IS 'BOOST' FOR SISTER COUNTIES

(From the Courier, Walnut Creek)

The Annual Number of THE OAKLAND TRIBUNE recently issued is a splendid advertisement of Alameda and Contra Costa counties. It is brimful with live matter and pictures of these two sister counties and is a great credit to THE TRIBUNE. Considerable space is given to the Mount Diablo country and it is to be hoped that this will be but the forerunner of every Oakland business man taking a greater interest in this grand old mountain.

METUCHEN, N. J., Feb. 1.—Three men who dropped off a freight train here last Sunday and asked for a place to sleep, were hauled out of the town lockup last night in a state of collapse from cold and starvation.

They had been completely forgotten after having been lodged in the jail in an out-of-the-way part of the village. Groans heard by a passerby led to an investigation. After being hauled out and cared for they took the first train out of town.

SCHMITZ CASE IS AGAIN DELAYED

The Hearing of Writ in District Court of Appeals Is Postponed.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 1.—The hearing in the district court of appeals in connection with the alternative writ of prohibition restraining Judge Lawler from trying former Mayor Eugene E. Schmitz was continued until 2:15 o'clock this afternoon when the court was adjourned.

Assistant District Attorney Berry was not ready with his return when he will file later in the day. Judge Lawler refused to allow the time for preparing an affidavit of prejudicial restraint if the defendant, directed to give for change of venue, was removable for the issuance of the writ by the appellate tribunal.

British to Augment Fleet of Destroyers

Naval Constructors Invited to Offer Bids On Three Boats Each.

LONDON, Feb. 1.—An unexpected call was made today on all the ship-builders in the list of contractors for the British navy, to send in tenders for a new fleet of torpedo boat destroyers of the most up-to-date type. Each of the firms has been invited to tender for three boats.

No provision for the construction of these craft was made in this year's naval estimates, but prominent naval men have for a long time complained of the lack in the British navy of fast-seagoing destroyers, capable of competing with modern cruisers.

WIDOW GIVEN ESTATE LEHNHARDT

Local Confectioner Makes No Direct Provision for His Children.

Estimated Value of Real and Personal Property Is $225,000.

By the terms of the last will and testament of the late Emil Lehnhardt, the prominent confectioner, which was filed in the Superior Court for probate a few minutes before the office of the County Clerk closed last evening, the bulk of the estate, estimated to be worth $225,000, will go to Hattie Lehnhardt, the widow. Emil Henry Marcus Lehnhardt, the son, and Edna Anita Cowing, the daughter, being purposely omitted. The will also provides for a annuity of $100 a month to be paid to Lehnhardt's father. The widow is named as executrix, with the proviso that if she should die or be unable to serve, Mrs. Cowing would act in her stead. The instrument was drawn and signed by Lehnhardt August 7, 1911, and is as follows:

Last will and testament of Emil Lehnhardt.

I, Emil Lehnhardt, of the city of Oakland, in the State of California, being of sound mind and acting freely and without any restraint whatsoever, do now make, publish, and declare this my last will and testament, in manner and form following:

First—I direct that all my just debts and funeral expenses be paid as soon after my decease as conveniently can be done.

Second—I give and bequeath to my father, should he survive me, the sum of one hundred ($100) dollars a month.

It is my wish, and I direct, that these payments shall commence on the first day of the first month following the date of my decease, and that they shall continue to be paid throughout the course of the administration of my estate, but I do not desire that these payments shall be made a charge on any portion of my estate after distribution, well knowing that my wife will properly execute my will.

Third—I give and bequeath to my mother, should she survive me, the sum of one hundred ($100) dollars a month.

It is my wish, and I direct, that these payments shall commence on the first day of the first month following the date of my decease, and that they shall continue to be paid throughout the course of the administration of my estate, but I do not desire that these payments shall be made a charge on any portion of my estate after distribution, well knowing that my wife will properly execute my will.

Fourth—All the rest, residue and remainder of my estate, real, personal and mixed, wheresoever situated, of which I may die seized or possessed, or to which I may be entitled at the time of my decease, I give, devise and bequeath to my wife, Hattie Lehnhardt, to have and to hold the same to her absolutely and forever.

Fifth—I nominate, constitute and appoint my wife, Hattie Lehnhardt, as the executrix of this my last will and testament, and I direct that she shall not be required to give any bond or security for the faithful or proper performance of her duties as such executrix.

In the event of my said wife to act as such executrix, I hereby nominate and appoint my said daughter, Edna Anita Cowing, as the executrix of this will.

Sixth—I hereby authorize the executrix of this will to sell any portion of my estate, real or personal, when ever in her judgment it shall be necessary or proper so to do, without first obtaining any authority or order of the court in that behalf.

In witness whereof I have hereunto subscribed my name at the place and upon the trial before Judge John Ellsworth in the criminal department of the Superior Court, for burglary in the second degree. The case against the young man is being prosecuted by Deputy District Attorney Roger C. Hale. Attorney Gano also appears for defendant.

On the evening of November 15, 1911, together with Thomas Fowler, a youth younger than himself, Tilden is alleged to have broken into the home of H. E. Nichols, 1020 Grand Avenue, and stolen a quantity of silverware, a dress suit and coat case, the total value of which was about $200. Fowler pleaded guilty to his participation in the crime and he was committed to the Penitentiary of Northern California, this 7th day of August, 1911, in the presence of William J. Gord and Olive Wood, whom I have requested to become attesting witnesses hereto.

VERDICT AT INQUEST.

Suicide during temporary insanity was the verdict of the coroner's jury at the inquest over the death of the late Emil Lehnhardt, who shot himself in the basement of his Broadway store last week. The inquest was held at the local morgue last evening, Judge James Quinn presiding in the absence of Coroner C. L. Tisdale.

E. J. Cowing, son-in-law of the deceased; R. Pamplin, an employee at the candy store, and Dr. William S. Porter were witnesses before the coroner's jury. Cowing and Pamplin, who discovered the body in the basement of the Lehnhardt home, said they found the body lying on the floor, with his head in the basement doorway. Dr. Porter, who has been the Lehnhardt family physician for the past fifteen years, testified to the mental condition of the deceased and of the fear entertained by specialists who had made an examination that there would be a nervous breakdown from overwork and worry.

The evidence clearly pointed to the suicide being the result of mental aberration. The verdict to that effect was rendered after short deliberation on the part of the jury.

PURIFYING WATER
SAVES MANY LIVES

Declaration of Prof. Charles Gilman Hyde in Pamphlet On Water-Borne Evil.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Feb. 1.—That the use of polluted water for drinking and for general supply purposes has often resulted in alarming mortality from intestinal and other diseases is the statement of Prof. Charles Gilman Hyde, a tract issued at the University today, on "The Sterilization of Water Supplies." Professor Hyde is professor of sanitary engineering, a graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, a member of the American Society of Civil Engineers and the Boston Society of Civil Engineers, and of the American Public Health Association, and has standing throughout the United States as a foremost authority on sanitary engineering with reference, particularly to water supplies.

WATER-BORNE DISEASES.
The water-borne diseases, he says in his paper, include typhoid fever, cholera, dysentery, diarrhea, anthrax and perhaps even tuberculosis, pneumonia, bronchitis and certain infant diseases. The chief cause of death from intestinal diseases is the sterilization of water supplies, Professor Hyde shows by actual tests. That the sterilization of water supplies reduces mortality not only from the strictly called water-borne diseases, but also from a number of others whose source and cause have heretofore been in doubt.

Professor Hyde says:

"A study of the vital statistics of numerous places where the quality of the public water supply has suddenly been changed from bad to excellent, shows that the removal of pollution and proper operation of adequate treatment works, has shown that for every person thus saved from death from typhoid fever approximately three other persons are saved from death from other causes, many of which would not have been thought to have any direct connection with or to be especially affected or influenced by the quality of the public water supply."

This is the Hyde theorem. Professor Hyde traces the history of water supply and sewage disposal. He first thought of quantity, then of pleasing appearance. Next of freedom from disease germs, now of freedom from all bacterial life as the only guarantee of virtually absolute purity, according to his treatise.

WHERE BACTERIA THRIVE.

Bacteria of all kind are found especially in surface waters; they are infected by the rubbish thrown out by residents, and there is potential danger of temporary infection by campers and picnickers. A close and intimate relationship exists between bacteria and algae, that is to say, bleaching powder, though not a panacea for all troubles, will if wisely used, kill off practically all the dangerous bacteria by a process of oxidation.

It is probably true for the conditions which obtain in California in most small communities using comparatively small quantities of water that calcium hypochlorite will prove superior to any known sterilizing agent from the standpoint of reliability, of manipulation and cost," says the writer.

BLEACHING POWDER METHOD.

The bleaching powder method is new. It was first tried only three years ago in Jersey City. Very successful results were obtained in the Ohio River. The bleaching powder heretofore has been used chiefly for the bleaching of textiles and paper; it is inexpensive and the paints and equipment necessary for its use are most ridiculously cheap. One bag does not contain enough of the water-disinfecting agent, and the administration of an amount ample to kill the germs can have no possible deleterious effect upon human beings. Plants are being built in Worcester, Mass., Toledo, Ohio, Springfield, Mass., Peoria, Ill., Milwaukee, Omaha, Poughkeepsie and the Union Stock Yards, Chicago. Published records are very satisfactory as to the success of the new method.

Professor Hyde gives in his paper a summary of the findings of the results of these various points.

FIGURES SHOW GROWTH OF STATE UNIVERSITY

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Feb. 1.—That the University is growing at a rapid rate, and that the institution has just announced by Recorder James Sutton. Total enrollment in the University as a whole, for new undergraduates and for graduates at this time, is 1,000, while the same year, 1911, there were 852 students. On January 31, 1911, there were 220 enrolled, while in 1910 there were 288.

The number of graduate students for the past three years on January 31 are as follows: 1910, 149; 1911, 151; 1912, 166. New undergraduates have increased also rapidly, although this year's total does not present such a large per cent increase as does 1911 over 1910. The figures for these years are: 1910, 149; 1911, 166; 1912, 182.

INQUEST HELD IN THE ELLIS CASE

ALAMEDA, Feb. 1.—Judge Elmer E. Johnson conducted an inquiry at the Alameda branch morgue today to inquire into the death of Joseph D. Ellis, a ship's captain, who died suddenly at the United States Naval Hospital here. The testimony showed that ante-mortem heart attack was the cause of death. Ellis was married and lived at 730 Shortwell Street. He was 55 years of age, and born at Durkee, Humboldt county, Oregon. He was a native of Ellis, a nephew of the deceased.

Gerrit Michell of 2831 Twenty-seventh street was taken to the receiving hospital about 12:30 o'clock this morning, from the home of his medical attendant. Dr. Edward Grayley said that he had taken himself with suicidal intent, but he had no symptoms of poisoning of any description. The woman was put to bed where she slept soundly the remainder of the night and about 6 this forenoon was allowed to return home.

Why Salves Can't Cure Eczema

The old-fashioned theory of cure—salves through the blood has been given up by scientists, many different cures have been tried for skin diseases, and now the newer cures are being tried. These new ones seem to be the epidemics where the eczema germs are lodged. This—the quality of penetrating—probably explains the tremendous success of the new methods. Rounding comes rapidly, and after a few days the skin is smooth and clear. We have said other remedies for skin diseases but none that we can recommend as safe as the new ones for we know that

Mrs. Charles A. Young Says
Suit Against Spouse Is Friendly.

HUSBAND LOST HER
FORTUNE IN STOCKS

Brings Action Against Brokers
to Recover Securities Given.

BERKELEY, Feb. 1.—"The implication in press reports that there is anything wrong between myself and my husband is unjust," declared Mrs. Charles A. Young, wife of Rev. Young, temporary pastor of Claremont Baptist church, and joint defendant with the New York brokerage firm of Hutton & Company in suit brought by Mrs. Young against the same in bonds and other negotiable securities owned by the wife, which he lost in speculations.

The Youngs reside at 2534 Davis street. The cleric came to Alameda from Chicago only two years ago, while his wife made a visit in Germany. During his stay in that city and while he was acting pastor of a Christian church at College City, Colusa county, the Rev. Young, according to testimony given by his attorney, lost in New York, speculate in stocks, and also in cotton. A break in cotton followed, and then the brokers called on Young for more security, which he failed to furnish and his account was closed.

Mrs. Young, who is a soft-spoken and attractive woman, denied this morning that there was any domestic trouble when she heard of her husband's losses during her European visit.

"There has been unpleasantness, not as there now," protested the clergyman's wife.

SUIT IS FRIENDLY.

"My husband and I talked it all over and we decided that the proper course would be to sue him in a friendly way as defendant. The same attorneys are acting for both of us."

When questioned as to the value of the lost bonds and securities, Mrs. Young said they were worth more than $10,000, but added that she was not certain there was not a larger sum involved. "I have never asked my husband about the exact amount," she added.

"I do not think it is wise to discuss the case with my husband," Mrs. Young said. "We will go to New York when advised to do so by our attorneys."

"It is an unjust insinuation that there was ever any unpleasantness between myself and my husband. We have been very happy together," she said.

Rev. Young was in Oakland transacting real estate business this morning. He said he was willing to have the court pass upon the merits of the litigation against Hutton & Company.

FAILS TO REALIZE.

"Yes, I placed the securities of my wife with the brokerage firm and signed certain powers of attorney authorizing the firm to make certain investments in stocks and cotton. The subsequent events were hardly what I anticipated," she said.

The broker's side of the story is told in the following statement:

"About three years ago," said Attorney John C. Foy, local counsel of E. F. Hutton & Company, "Rev. Dr. Charles A. Young appeared in the San Francisco office of E. F. Hutton & Company and introduced himself. He produced bonds and other negotiable securities which he had sold to him for an account."

"Soon after he opened his account he began trading in stocks and later switched to cotton, in which he dealt quite heavily, shortly prior to a 'big break' in the cotton market. After the 'big break' in cotton, Mr. Hutton & Company called up Young for further marginal securities.

Young had no funds and his account was closed, as he was an 'out-of-pocket' customer.

He has since been here, however, and has been given a new account.

"I do not know the exact amount lost by Young, but it was a large sum."

Additional contracts received by the Oakland baseball club include those of pitchers John Flater and "Bill" Harkins, the latter of whom was out on option to Scranton the past season. It is not certain whether or not Manager Sharpe will care to bring Harkins to the coast, but the club is pretty well satisfied with pitching talent it has, and it would not be surprising if Harkins was disposed of to some other club. Harkins was disposed of to another club, Harkins has been released by the club and is free to sign with any other club.

Good reports concerning both Third Baseman Hillis and Pitcher Pope, two of the men drafted by the Oaks from the South Atlantic League, have been received by Manager Sharpe. In a letter to the latter John A. Watson, who managed one of the teams in the South Atlantic last season says: "In reference to Pitcher Pope and Third Baseman Hillis, we will say that both are good men and I think Hillis will make you a good man at third or second. He is a good hitter and a fine fielder. I have seen him for the past three seasons and he looks better to me every year. As for Pope, I have seen him for the season only, but he looks like a come to me—big fellow and plenty of speed."

Catcher "Bunny" Pearce has dropped from Massillon, Ohio, having come out under the expert advice because his Oland bride confided that she was a little homesick. As Bunny's father is not in the best of health, he may have to return to Massillon at least for a time.

OAKLAND TO HAVE AVIATION MEET

MINT IS NOT TO BE CLOSED DOWN

That Oakland will be the scene of a great aviation meet within a few weeks second to none in the country is the plan of a number of the city's boosters and aviation enthusiasts who met yesterday at the Chamber of Commerce to discuss ways and means. The meeting was called at the instance of the chamber and was attended by the board of directors of that body and representatives of various civic and booster organizations. Only the details now remain to be settled.

The proposition for a great aero meet was brought before the board of directors of the chamber some two weeks ago by "Bud" Mars, the Oakland aviation of note. At that time he informed the board that a meet would probably be held either in this city or San Francisco, and only wanted to be assured of the co-operation and moral support of the chamber to bring the meet here. His illness prevented the further working out of the scheme by him and yesterday W. H. Pickens, representing the Curtiss and Wright companies and the individual aviators in Los Angeles, and former State Senator Frank Leavitt appeared before the meeting to present the matter.

PICK OF AVIATORS.

Pickens assured the local men that if they would lend their aid to honor the meet it would guarantee to bring here all the foremost aviators of the country who have been flying in Los Angeles. Two locations had been suggested, Toranfor in San Francisco, and the old Emeryville race track here, to be known hereafter as the Oakland aviation field, and on the assurance of the local men that they would aid in the meet, provided he could bring the men he represented, the Oakland field was chosen for the demonstration.

No date has yet been set for the meet, the date depending on the success Pickens meets in signing up his aviators. If his negotiations are successful, it is expected that the men will be brought here within two or three weeks and a meet lasting probably six days held.

WILL BE CIVIC AFFAIR.

"The meet will be made a civic affair," Secretary A. A. Denison of the Chamber of Commerce said this morning. "We will aid in the project all we can if the deal goes through, because wide publicity. The race at such a meet can be held over the middle of the winter, when the eastern states are snow-bound, will be another instance of our exceptional climate."

A special committee from the Chamber of Commerce to act for that body in the arrangements was announced by President W. E. Gibson of the chamber this afternoon. It consists of H. C. Capwell, chairman; F. A. Leach Jr., C. J. Heeseman, Walter S. Mackay, Frederick Kahn, B. A. Forster and H. Gilman.
